2.1.3. Environment Policy

EFICOR'S ENVIRONMENT POLICY

EFICOR is committed to address issues of environment and to promote the sustenance of both human life and the natural environment. EFICOR will identify policy measures that are creative and meaningful, which provide real solutions to environmental problems while simultaneously recognizing the importance of economic growth in contributing to the alleviation of poverty. This policy statement outlines EFICOR's course of action with regard to environmental issues.

EFICOR hereby adopts Environment Policy (2018), superseding its earlier policy document of 2004.

A. DEFINITION OF ENVIRONMENT

Environment is the totality of the physical conditions on the earth or part of it such as air, water, minerals and all other external factors, which surround, affect and influence the life, growth, development and survival of organisms. Environment concerns relate to its degradation primarily through the actions of humans. In the context of Environment Policy, the definition of environment covers all the domains of environment – Physical, Chemical, Biological and Socio- economic aspect.

B. BELIEFS

I. The Source of our Principles and Practices

1. Our understanding, principles and practices on environment are guided by the Bible.
2. In specific instances, we stand to benefit by use of reason and law.
3. Our involvement will be based on environment specific researched data and appropriate traditional knowledge and practices of communities.

II. Our Values

1. We believe that the earth (and the entire universe) came into existence through the act of creation by God.
1. We believe that human beings, both women and men were created and commissioned to rule over and care for the earth.
2. We believe that humankind will be held accountable to God to care for and sustain the earth.
4. We believe that the fall of humankind has resulted in the degradation of the environment and that the whole of creation waits and longs for its redemption.
