

Government Social Welfare Schemes in India

(an overview)

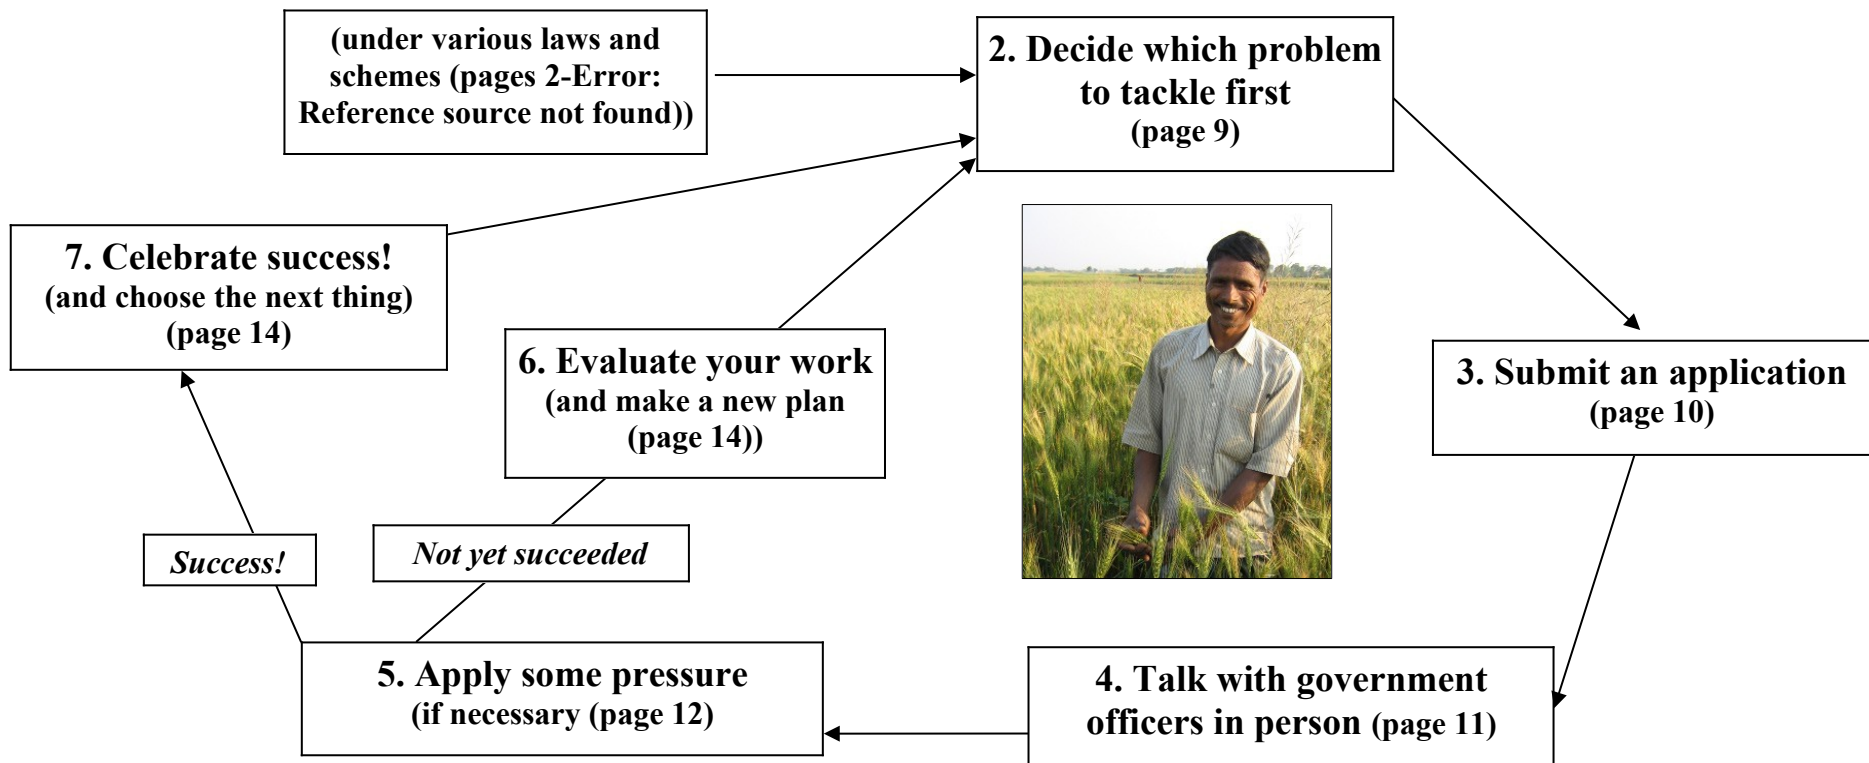

(Version #10, March 2023)

7 Steps to Building a Better Community!

This booklet is designed to help you and your community improve your lives! The government has many schemes & benefits designed to help people like you, but sadly, many of those benefits don't reach ordinary people because either:

- Many people don't know their rights;
- Many people don't have sufficient identity documents to apply for the scheme;
- Sometimes people don't have the needed application fee to apply;
- Some government officers ask for bribes; or
- Sometimes people are too scared to approach government officers at all.

This book takes you through 7 steps to overcome these problems and increase the chances for you and your community of getting the benefits to which you are entitled! The steps are:-

1st Step: Know your rights!

2nd Step: Decide which problem to tackle first

Individual's problems, like not getting a pension or a ration card, tend to be easier to solve. If you face one of these problems, you can work through steps 3-7 in this booklet to resolve it yourself.

If you succeed, then help someone else to solve their similar problem – but DON'T take a fee !

Community problems like lack of drinking water or lack of an anganwadi affect many people in the village or colony. These problems are often harder to solve and need a unified community effort. If your village or community has problems like these, then hold a community meeting to decide which problem to focus on first. In the meeting, remember :-

- Everyone is important and should be heard, so invite lots of different people, not just 'big people'. Try to encourage 'little people' like women, children, older people and, people with disabilities, to attend.
- Beforehand, choose someone who's fair and respected by everyone, to facilitate the meeting.
- Listen to everyone's opinion. Summarise what people say to check you've understood them. Praise each person for whatever they say, so they are likely to say more later.
- Don't let anyone, especially the 'big people', dominate the meeting.
- Seek agreement on which problem to try to solve first. Don't just do what the 'big people' say, but talk about it until everyone agrees on which problem to solve first.

For the first problem you tackle, it might be a good idea to choose the one which:-

- Other people in your Block or District have succeeded in solving before;
- Won't take too much money to solve;
- Won't take too much time to solve;
- Won't create enemies (eg trying to stop alcohol or gambling may create enemies);
- Is fairly urgent (eg you may decide to deal with a serious medical problem before a new road);
- Affects many people in the community, not just a few; and
- People have passion to deal with the problem.

3rd Step: Submit an application

If possible, do your application on-line to avoid bribes. Many villages have a Common Service Centre (see here), where you can apply on-line for some identity documents & other schemes. In Bihar, Rajasthan, UP & MP you may be able to use the local Jan Seva Kendra (see here). Some applications require a particular form, available from the government office. Otherwise, write your application on blank paper. Include:

- 1) A clear statement of your problem: For example, there is no anganwadi in your village. A photo of the problem (eg. many children in your village) makes the application even better.
- 2) The right you have to the benefit, with the relevant law or scheme name: (see green 'Your Rights' column in the table). For example; under the National Food Security Act Sec 2013 5(1)(a), the government should provide an Anganwadi to all children between the ages of 6 months and 6 years. (Even better, give the website (see here) showing that scheme or law).
- 3) Your request that is specific and clear: What do you want, by when. For example; You want an Anganwadi established in your village by 30th Sept 2023. (See blue 'Difficulty' column in the table for a reasonable time).
- 4) Pressure: If you don't get what you've asked for, state clearly what you will do next. Eg; If the anganwadi hasn't been begun by 1st October 2023, you'll lodge an RTI to find the progress of the application.

NB Copy your application to the higher government officer (see pink 'Where to Complain' column in the table), responsible for this scheme, so the local officer is more likely to respond. After writing the application, send it to the relevant office (see yellow 'Application' column in the table) by registered post and keep the receipt, so you have proof of having applied.

An example letter might look like this:-

*The Manager, ICDS
Fatehpur District, Uttar Pradesh

Re: Anganwadi for Sivarampur under National Food Security Act 2013

Dear sir,

I live in Sivarampur village in District Fatehpur, Uttar Pradesh. I respectfully state that:-

1. Our village has a population of 2,350, of which 272 are children from 6 months – 6 years old. As yet we have no anganwadi. I have attached a list of the children of this age in our village, together with a photo of them.
2. I note from the National Food Security Act 2013, Sec 5(1)(a) (here) that every child from 6 months to 6 years has the right to a cooked meal at an Anganwadi each day.
3. I would therefore like to apply for several anganwadis for our village. I would like these anganwadis to begin by 30 Sept, 2023.
4. If anganwadis are not begun by 1 Oct 2023, I will lodge an application under RTI Act 2005 to check progress on my application.

Kind regards,

Ramesh Kumar,

4th Step: Talk with government officers in person

It may necessary to talk in person with a government officer, either to give the application or check on its progress. If so:

Before the meeting, prepare well:

- Go with someone else from the community (to help each other, and to be witness to any bribe);
- Get an appointment if possible (so you don't waste your time);
- Dress formally (so you appear as a person who is serious about his/her rights);
- Have your diary, paper & pen (so you can write down any future dates or promises);
- Take 2 copies of any letter or document you want to present (give one and get a 'received' copy to keep);
- Take originals and copies of documents you have to submit (see yellow 'Application' column in the table) (so you can show, but not give the original);
- Expect many excuses! Be prepared for this, so you don't get angry when you hear the excuses;
- Know your rights (see green 'Your Rights' column in the table);
- Know where the office is (see yellow 'Application' column in the table) so you get there on time;
- Before you go into the office, decide what pressure you're prepared to apply (see options in 5th step);
- Learn the officer's superior's name (see pink 'Where to Complain' column in the table), so you can apply pressure; and
- Decide who will speak, so you don't all try to speak at the same time.

During the meeting:

- Introduce yourself. Check the officer's name & designation, so you don't start talking to his peon by mistake;
- Clearly state your purpose for coming. Assure the officer that you don't want to take much of his/her time;
- If you are submitting an application, be sure to get a 'received' stamp on your copy, so that you have proof;
- If the officer gives excuses, stay calm! If there's an argument or raised voices, you will lose !;
- Repeat whatever the officer says (whether negative or positive). That's because when the officer hears his unreasonable response repeated, he might soften it;
- Don't accept 'Maybe later', as 'later' tends to mean 'never'. Specify any future date and put it in your diary;
- Clearly state whatever follow up or pressure you intend to do (see options in 5th step); and
- Thank him/her! (It's unusual to thank someone, so the officer may appreciate it and welcome you more next time).

If an officer asks you for a bribe then: -

- Ask him/her to show you where the fee is written (to highlight it as illegal); or
- Say you'll happily pay the fee, if he gives you a receipt (also to highlight its illegality); or
- Repeat his request loudly, so that others in the vicinity hear, and he/she is embarrassed; or
- If he/she persists, try to voice or video record the demand. Otherwise note the details of the interaction in a way that the officer knows you're noting it. Note the day, time, place & exact demand. Note the officer's name & designation.

After the meeting: -

Record what happened including: -

- Date & time of meeting;
- The name and designation of the officer you met;
- What was said / the result of the meeting;
- Keep the 'received' copy of any application; and
- Any follow up you intend to take (on the appropriate date in your diary).

Then be sure to take any action you said you would take (lodge RTI etc) by the date you said you'd take it.

5th Step: Apply some pressure if necessary

Remember that in the application letter, you specified when you wanted the action taken. It takes time to build roads, make Aadhaar cards or start anganwadis. Government officers have many people to satisfy, so wait that reasonable period (see blue 'Difficulty' column in the table), before you do anything else. As that time approaches, give the officer a call, to remind him of the timeframe and to keep a little pressure on him! If your application is not successful, after waiting the reasonable time, it's good to apply a little pressure on the government officer. Some ways to apply pressure (from easiest to hardest are: -

- If possible, check the status of your application on-line (here).
- Complaining once again to the original officer where you applied;
- Using the government grievance redressal system (register here);
- Complaining to the officer's superior (see pink 'Where to Complain' column in the table); or
- Lodging a Right To Information (RTI) application to Department where you applied (on-line here for Central Government Departments), or in writing (example below); or
- Contacting an NGO which is active in that field; or
- Contacting anyone you know in the media, who may write a story on the situation.

Sample RTI – Only bold writing needs to change

6th Step: Evaluate your work!

If, after applying reasonable pressure, you still haven't succeeded:

- Sit down with your colleagues and discuss the case. What have you done well so far, and what could you have done better?
- Decide whether you can apply a different sort of pressure, or whether you need any extra help.
- Make a new plan for getting the entitlement.
- Work on the new plan. We call this an Action-Reflection Cycle: Plan, Act, Reflect, Plan, Act, Reflect etc

7th Step: Celebrate your Success!

Hopefully, after following these steps, you will eventually be successful in getting your rights. If you are successful, then:-

- Celebrate the success with everyone who was a part of it! Have some cold drinks and samosas!
- Thank the officer who was most helpful in the success. Thanking him/her is a nice thing to do, and he/she may be more likely to help with your next problem.
- Tell people in other villages and communities of your success, so that they're encouraged to try as well. If they're willing to try, then help them as best you can. Don't take a fee. Just help out to be nice. They might help you next time!
- Decide together again with your community, what problem you want to tackle next! You're back to Step 2!

Raju gets a Disability Pension: Raju lives in a shack by the side of a railway track. A father of 5 children, he struggles to make ends meet working as a recycler. Despite having a substantial physical disability – his left leg is largely paralysed in a bent position – he manages to cycle several kilometres to his work. When our community worker met Raju, he asked him to apply for the disability pension for him. He was the first person the community worker had applied for, so it took some time to learn the system – taking photos of his documents, uploading them through the online portal, and submitting hard copies in the District Disability Welfare Office. After several months' waiting, Raju received his first instalment in November 2020! The Rs1,000 per month is not much, but it's something to help the family survive. Since Raju's success, numerous other people have come forward asking to apply for various types of pensions (disability, widow and old age).

Ruby gets a Gas Connection: Ruby is a single mum parenting a 3 year-old-daughter in a shack by the side of the railway. She cooked on a wood stove indoors; which was unpleasant and time consuming for her, and also contributed to respiratory issues for her daughter and elderly father. She was very keen to apply for gas, but did not have a PAN card or bank account (prerequisites for a government gas connection) or sufficient money for the application. We helped her apply for both a PAN card and a bank account, and then submitted photocopies of her documents to the local gas distributor, as well as giving a small gift to help her pay the upfront cost. She's now saving time, money, and her lungs by cooking on the cleaner, cheaper and more convenient gas.

Savita's life is saved from TB: Savita, 28, suffered terribly from headaches and nausea for several months. She was diagnosed with TB meningitis just prior to the start of the Covid lockdown in March 2020. Her husband, a mochi, did not know that free TB treatment was available from government DOTS centres, so spent tens of thousands of rupees on private doctors, some of whom prescribed painkillers and cough syrups without the anti tubercular drugs she needed. Despite some difficulty due to the lockdown, community workers helped Savita enrol in the nearby DOTS centre and start receiving free treatment. While on correct medication, her condition continued to deteriorate as she became bedridden and her weight dropped to 21 kg. She was hospitalised for 3 months in a government TB hospital, receiving free treatment and food. Gradually she started recovering, is now mobile again, has regained weight to 38 kg, and is no longer suffering from headaches or nausea.
